Universal Trivial Pursuit

Trivial Pursuit, the classic trivia game, is known for its broad array of questions spanning various categories. The original game, also known as the Genus Edition, contains approximately 6,000 questions. These questions cover six categories: arts & literature, entertainment, geography, history, science & nature, and sports & leisure. For example, in the arts & literature category, you might encounter questions like "Who wrote the satirical essay 'A Modest Proposal'?" with the answer being Jonathan Swift, or "What is the literary term for a word that describes a sound?" with the answer being onomatopoeia. The diversity of questions ensures that players with different areas of knowledge and expertise can participate and contribute to the game. Trivial Pursuit has become a staple in game nights, encouraging learning and fun in a competitive format.
